An exciting time at OLS

I say it every time, but it's true—I really can't believe how fast this year is racing by. I finally have all the workshops and materials boxed and stored, and dates are starting to book up at a range of venues across the area.

I've been out and about with the stand at a number of places during the summer, and it's been lovely to meet so many people I interested in learning something new.

Please remember that in the new way of working, I can be more responsive to your requests. So, if there's something you or a group of you want to do, I can look to bring that something to a venue that suits your group and activity, including your home. If there's something you have a burning desire to learn or want a fun day with friends or colleagues, just give me a call or drop me an email, and we're away!

Workshop Magic

The results of a recent Christmas Stumpwork workshop at YARNS of Tavistock. More dates now booking for this lovely mistletoe sprig, or Spring Stumpwork in the new year.

Dizzy and Creative go global!

Our adorable pair are gaining a rapidly increasing following both in the UK and much farther afield. Their diverse adventures include postcards from friend Pebbles from her French holiday during the summer, and their latest exploits demonstrated Dizzy's bread baking skills.

By popular request we have been developing a pattern for the dolls, as so many folks want to make their own loveable friend. I am now delighted to announce the launch of this exciting new pattern. It's available by mail order from the website shop, or in person from any venue where I have the stand or a workshop.

The perfect Christmas gift!

Their blog can be read via the OLS website, or direct:

Dizzy and Creative will make their next public appearance at the Miss Ivy Heritage Artisan Fair, Tavistock Pannier Market Sunday 1st November. Do please pop along and say hello to them—and bag yourself a pattern!
